Computer Science

University for Business and Technology- UBT

During my time at UBT, I immersed myself in a variety of projects that allowed me to harness the power of HTML, CSS, and JavaScript to craft engaging web experiences. I also explored the versatility of WordPress to design and manage dynamic websites. Complementing these skills, I applied SQL to effectively manage data and create robust databases, ensuring seamless functionality behind the scenes. Additionally, I have some experience with React for building interactive user interfaces and Node.js for server-side development.
